DECISION WON'T AFFECT STATE ATTORNEY-GENERAL

Being Judicial Officer, Increase in Pay, Made in 1906, Not Prohibited by Law.

Whatever the Supreme Court of Appeals may hold in the cases of Major James B. Wood and others, from whom salary increases have been withheld by the Legislature, the decision of the Supreme Court against Major Wood and others who are suing for increased salaries, granted only in the appropriation bill last session, might mean that Mr. Pollard would not be obliged to refund a part of his salary, the pay of the Attorney-General having been increased in 1906 without a special act.

This is the opinion of Assistant Attorney-General Leslie E. Garnett, given yesterday afternoon following a published report that a decision of the Supreme Court against Major Wood and others who are suing for increased salaries, granted only in the appropriation bill last session, might mean that Mr. Pollard would not be obliged to refund a part of his salary, the pay of the Attorney-General having been increased in 1906 without a special act.

MUST FREE CAGED BIRDS UNDER GAME LAW

Act of Last Assembly Becomes Effective on June 17—Parrots and Parrots Exempt.

On Saturday, June 17, ninety days after the official adjournment of the General Assembly, the new game act goes into force.

This act adopts the provision of the Federal migratory bird bill, passed by law every caged bird in the State except such as are deemed outlaws, and except parrots and canaries, in captivity since they first left the nest, some of them were captured after they were grown, and have been in their prison cages so long they will hardly know how to catch their natural food, but yet they will be glad to be free and instinct will soon lead them in the ways of the wild.

Mr. J. H. Hart, chief clerk of the Department of Game and Inland Fisheries, in calling attention to the new law, said when he took up the fight for the birds years ago he never expected to be in a position where he could do more than preach the gospel of wild life protection and preservation, and that it is particularly gratifying to him to know that he is now a positive backer by the authority of the law, both State and Federal, to see that imprisoned birds are liberated.

ONE HUNDRED PERSONS TO WORK FOR HOSPITAL

Men and Women Promise Active Support in Campaign to Raise $250,000 for Memorial.

PROMINENT CITIZENS SPEAK

Physicians and Laymen Appeal for Enlarged Facilities in Order to Make Richmond Institution Foremost of Its Kind in South.

Stirred to tremendous enthusiasm by the appeal of physician and layman for enlarged facilities at the Memorial Hospital for the care of the neurones suffering with contagious diseases and for an ample home for nurses, 100 men and women, who met yesterday afternoon at the assembly hall of the Chamber of Commerce, bound themselves to work with might and main in every district of the city until they had obtained $250,000 for what is described as the greatest charity work which Richmond has undertaken in recent years. Appeals were made by Thomas L. Moore, general chairman; by E. Randolph Williams, by Dr. George Ben Johnson, by Dr. J. Allison Hodges, by Colonel Thomas B. McAdams, and by W. T. Dabney, business manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Colonel McAdams sounded a significant note when he stated that his heart had not been with the movement at first, but that since he had become convinced that the city was entering upon an enterprise for which the greatest demands of the effort of every public-spirited citizen. He said he was in the campaign to the finish.

Always in the forefront when it comes to brooding over the city, Dr. Dabney urged that everyone present join in the movement, saying that it was better, if they did not put their whole soul and heart into the cause, than to give way to those who would give the most they can of their time and energy. A like note of inspiration was sounded by the other speakers, and the movement to build for Richmond the greatest and most complete hospital in the South was well-started.

NURSES PROMISE AID

IN RAISING FUND

A deeper touch to the significance of the occasion was given when it was learned after the meeting that five school nurses had agreed among themselves and promised the committee to raise $25 toward the fund. These young women have become interested in the children in the schools, and have followed them into the homes, and have decided, small as their own stipends are, to make a sacrifice in order that they might give. The nurses are Misses Hughes, Hill, Montgomery, Copenhaver and Henninghausen.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Moore, and on the motion of Dr. Johnson, Mr. Williams was elected chairman. The general plan for the campaign was outlined in detail by the campaign manager, who stated that experts had gone over the city directory and had selected 15,000 people, of whom 500 are colored, to be visited and personally solicited to aid in the campaign. These people are grouped by ward and street number, so that the work of the solicitor may be made easier. The initial campaign, said the manager, has been assigned to 1,000 collectors to be appointed. Every man present indicated his willingness to share in the work of solicitation.

Contributions are to be turned in to J. Z. Morris, president of the board of trustees of the Medical College of Virginia, and treasurer of the campaign fund. Larger funds are to be paid in quarterly installments. It was asked that donations of $5 or less be paid in cash.

Further arrangements will be made at the banquet to be held in the Jefferson Hotel on Tuesday night, and the campaign proper will begin on Monday at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce, closing the campaign of Captain James T. Bailey.

Dr. J. Allison Hodges, who is in charge of the banquet arrangements, said that the tables set for the banquet, 500 people, were to make the focal point for the arousing of enthusiasm. He said that the committee was especially anxious that every member of the present assembly should be present, and that women are expected to attend, since they have given so largely of their time and effort toward making the campaign a success. The cost of the tickets is nominal, only a small part of the entire cost to the committee.

Mr. Dabney made a rousing address. He said that the members of the committee had been selected because of their peculiar fitness for so important a work and because it was known that they had the interests of the community at heart.

MR. MOORE CERTAIN

OF RAISING MONEY

"The soul of every individual," said Mr. Dabney, "must be centered in this work. Each must feel as if the whole work depended upon him as much as it does upon the group. The city, he continued, "owed not so much to the individual as the individual owes to the city, and I feel as if I should repay to the community everything I owe. Every one of us here is enjoying good health, and we owe it to ourselves and to the community at large to work toward this great end and to build for Richmond a large and fine hospital, and there is in the South no one who has done this better than Mr. Moore said that what was wanted was not the story of the past, but the making of a successful future. He stated that the foundation for that success in this present movement had been laid, and that on June 24 the people would have raised the $250,000 needed.

Dr. Johnson said he was interested in all things that would better the life of Richmond, and that he was particularly interested in this movement. He declared that the poor sick man was not only a burden on the community, but a disgrace, as well as a waste of money. Dr. A. C. Brown informed the committee that the doctors of the city had formed themselves into five subcommittees to work two hours every day until the money is raised.

Observe Flag Day Here Wednesday

Patriotic Orders Request Governor and Mayor to Aid Movement.

Steps for the celebration of Wednesday, June 14, as "Flag Day" were taken yesterday by representatives of various patriotic societies in Richmond. The date is the anniversary of the adoption by the American republic of the Stars and Stripes as the United States flag.

The Sons of the American Revolution, the Sons of the Revolution, National Security League, and the Junior Order United American Mechanics yesterday forwarded a joint letter to Governor Stuart and Mayor Ainslie calling their attention to the day and asking on behalf of the Virginia chapters in these organizations that flags be displayed on all public buildings on June 14, and that citizens be requested to display flags that day on buildings and automobiles.

COUNCIL GETS COMPLAINT

AGAINST NOISY PEDDLERS

Mayor Ainslie Forwards Protest Made by Fulton School on Monday Amend Ordinance.

Mayor George Ainslie has forwarded to the Council the complaint filed by citizens against the noise made by peddlers while crying their wares in the streets. The complaint will be referred to the Ordinance Committee by the Council, and it is probable that the ordinance now in force regulating peddlers will be amended.

I have had innumerable verbal complaints," said the Mayor yesterday, "from time to time about the noise made by hawkers and peddlers while crying their wares in the streets of the city. For the first time I received this day a complaint in writing signed by numerous residents of Fulton. I have always had to reply to these complaints that there was nothing that could be done about it, so long as the law remained as it is.

"I have forwarded the Fulton complaint to the Council, and it is now time for the people of the city to make their wishes known to the Ordinance Committee. The only remedy is an ordinance to regulate the law, as I pointed out in my communication to the Council with which I forwarded the Fulton complaint. If the people of Fulton want this practice prohibited they may say so to the committee."

SUITS UP ON MONDAY

Cases of Receivers Against Union Stores Stockholders Before Law and Equity Court.

The hearing of fifty suits, instituted by the receivers of the defunct Union Stores, which conducted a general store at Severn and Franklin Streets for some time, against the stockholders of the company for balances claimed to be due on their stock subscriptions, has been set for Monday in the Equity Court.

These suits have been filed from time to time and continued at the request of attorneys. No judgments have been secured against stockholders by the receivers since the mass-meeting held about three months ago, at which the stockholders formed a committee and employed counsel to resist the collection of the balances due on their stock. They assert that mismanagement on the part of the directors was responsible for the failure of the company.

Dr. Brooker fled from Richmond shortly before the date set for his second trial, and efforts of Federal authorities to locate him have failed.

Dr. Brooker was being held for his second trial under a $2,000 bond, which he forfeited. His real estate in this city has been attached for the claims of the United States.

HOPE TO COMPLETE FUND FOR NEW ROAD TO-DAY

More Than $40,000 Has Been Subscribed to Urbanna Line by Local Business Men.

ADDITIONAL $20,000 NEEDED

As Soon as Total of $100,000, of Which $80,000 Is Already Assured, Is Raised, Actual Construction Will Be Started.

With more than $40,000 of the required $60,000 reported at the meeting yesterday afternoon of the committee in charge of the campaign to raise the necessary amount to complete the $100,000 cash fund required by the contractors before actual construction work is started on the Richmond, Rappahannock, and Northern Railroad, members of the committee were highly enthusiastic last night and firm in the belief that the subscription would be completed to-day.

Many of the leading merchants and business men of the city have not been slow to state definitely whether or not they would be able to subscribe to stock in the Richmond, Rappahannock and Northern, for the matter had to be referred to their boards of directors and fully explained before any action could be taken. This, naturally, delayed the campaign somewhat, but no doubt was expressed last night that the stock to the extent of $20,000 would be sold in Richmond.

WILL ANNOUNCE NAMES OF ALL SUBSCRIBERS

West Point, Urbanna and business men in the section through which the road will traverse have subscribed $10,000 of the stock, leaving only $50,000 to be raised in Richmond.

"As soon as the canvass is thoroughly made and accomplished," said Chairman T. M. Carrington yesterday, "the names of those subscribing will be given full publicity, for, if there is one thing above all others that the citizens at West Point and Urbanna and the country between in this section should be made to know, it is that the citizens of Richmond who have been sufficiently interested in them and have sufficient faith in them to contribute to the construction of this railroad."

When it is considered that this country is exactly the same character as that of the Eastern Shore of Virginia, which has now six times the population and only one-fourth the territory, it should be appreciated that even the large patronage that they will gain, both in a wholesale and a retail way, is but a beginning of what it will be in a few short years.

Oliver J. Sands, president of the American National Bank, was highly pleased with the response made by the business men of Richmond in the interest of the project, and said that the banks would unite in taking a slice of the stock and apportion the amount among the various financial institutions of the city.

The subscribers to the stock of the new road are Dr. J. Shelton Horsley, $500; Dr. Stuart McGuire, $500; John Kerr Branch, $1,000; Southern Stock Yards Company, $500; Richmond Forging Company, $500; and Harwood Brothers, $500.

Hopelessly Divided in Suit of J. M. Howell Against Robert L. Smith for $5,000.

A jury in the Law and Equity Court, sitting in the case of J. M. Howell against Robert L. Smith, a suit for $5,000 damages, reported to Judge Crump yesterday that it was unable to reach a verdict and was discharged.

The case has been on trial for several days. Howell instituted suit for damages alleged to have been sustained when his motorcycle collided with Smith's automobile at Adams and Grace Streets. He claimed in his declaration to have suffered a broken leg and to have been otherwise injured.

Ex-Convict Must Pay Taxes

Assistant Attorney-General Leslie E. Garnett has ruled that an ex-convict, after restoration to citizenship, must have receipts for the payment of three years' capitation taxes before he is eligible to vote in any election held in the State. The fact that he is confined in the penitentiary, the Assistant Attorney-General says, takes away certain rights of citizenship, but does not interfere with the assessment against him of taxes.
